

SHE'S THE VIBE

A GILDED LIBRARY FOR THE STORIES YOU KEEP

READING VIBE

REUSABLE BOOK REFLECTION PACK

ONE BOOK. SIXTEEN PAGES. DUPLICATE FOR EVERY STORY.

Your reading life deserves somewhere beautiful to live.

Before I begin

Capture expectations without turning them into a contract.

BOOK + AUTHOR

Include series order and edition if relevant.

WHY THIS BOOK NOW

Mood, recommendation, assignment, challenge, curiosity, hype, cover, author.

WHAT I EXPECT

Tone, genre, pace, themes, difficulty, feelings.

WHAT WOULD MAKE THIS READING EXPERIENCE ACCESSIBLE

Format, time, content information, audio, notes, pacing, support.

Book facts + reading context

Record enough context to remember which version of the book you actually met.

PUBLICATION + EDITION

Original date, this edition, publisher, translator, narrator, illustrator.

READING DATES + FORMAT

Started, finished or paused, print, ebook, audio, mixed.

WHERE AND WHEN I READ IT

Life season, class, trip, weather, location, routine.

CONTENT NOTES FOR MY FUTURE SELF

Only what is useful; avoid public spoilers unless clearly labeled.

The Quick Vibe

Feel first. Explain second.

RATING + THREE-WORD VIBE

Use stars, numbers, emojis, colors, or your own system.

IMMEDIATE REACTION

The first honest paragraph.

FAVORITE PART

Character, scene, idea, relationship, image, line, performance.

WHO I WOULD RECOMMEND IT TO

Be specific about taste and access.

Plot + pacing

Analyze the movement without reducing the book to a summary.

THE CENTRAL MOVEMENT

What changes from beginning to end?

TURNING POINTS

Where does the story or argument become something new?

PACING

Where did time accelerate, linger, drag, fracture, or disappear?

THE ENDING

Earned, surprising, open, rushed, satisfying, unsettling - and why?

Setting + atmosphere

Setting can shape possibility, danger, identity, power, and mood.

WHERE AND WHEN

Physical, historical, social, cultural, speculative, emotional.

SENSORY ATMOSPHERE

Light, sound, texture, weather, architecture, movement, silence.

HOW SETTING AFFECTS CHOICES

What can characters or speakers do here - and what is constrained?

A PLACE I REMEMBER

Draw, describe, map, or name the scene that made it vivid.

Characters, voices + relationships

Notice desire, contradiction, agency, change, and who gets understood.

THE CENTRAL FIGURE OR VOICE

What do they want, fear, misunderstand, and protect?

A RELATIONSHIP THAT MATTERS

How does power, care, conflict, history, or dependence move between them?

A CHARACTER I CHANGED MY MIND ABOUT

What evidence changed the reading?

WHO IS MISSING OR UNHEARD

Whose interiority, knowledge, or consequence stays outside the frame?

Conflict + stakes

Track what pushes against what - externally, internally, relationally, socially, or philosophically.

THE VISIBLE CONFLICT

What problem organizes the surface?

THE DEEPER TENSION

What values, needs, identities, histories, or structures collide?

THE STAKES

What can be lost, gained, protected, exposed, or transformed?

THE CHOICE THAT REVEALS THE MOST

Which decision tells you who someone is?

Themes + questions

A theme is an idea the book explores through pattern and tension, not one-word moral wallpaper.

A PATTERN I NOTICED

Images, situations, objects, language, relationships, absences.

A POSSIBLE THEME STATEMENT

What does the book suggest, complicate, or refuse to solve?

EVIDENCE

Scenes, structures, contrasts, consequences, or recurring language.

A QUESTION THE BOOK LEAVES OPEN

The question may be more valuable than an answer.

Symbols + motifs

Interpret with evidence and room for alternatives.

THE RECURRING IMAGE OR OBJECT

What returns?

ITS CONTEXT

Who encounters it, when, and under what conditions?

POSSIBLE MEANINGS

Offer more than one reading when the text supports it.

HOW IT CHANGES

Does the symbol gather, reverse, or lose meaning?

Voice, style + structure

Name the craft that produced the feeling.

VOICE AND POINT OF VIEW

Distance, reliability, diction, intimacy, authority, multiplicity.

SENTENCE-LEVEL TEXTURE

Rhythm, imagery, dialogue, detail, repetition, silence, density.

STRUCTURE

Linear, braided, fragmented, framed, episodic, cyclical, experimental.

THE EFFECT

How did these choices shape attention, emotion, trust, or meaning?

Quotes + vocabulary

Keep short excerpts for personal study and respect copyright when sharing publicly.

A SHORT LINE I WANT TO REMEMBER

Add page, chapter, timestamp, or location.

WHY IT MATTERS

Craft, meaning, emotion, argument, beauty, humor, or context.

WORDS OR REFERENCES TO EXPLORE

Vocabulary, history, art, places, concepts, allusions.

MY OWN PARAPHRASE

Say the idea in your words to test understanding.

Representation + perspective

Read with context, curiosity, and humility rather than treating one book as an entire group.

WHOSE PERSPECTIVE IS CENTERED

Identity, role, authority, access, vulnerability, knowledge.

WHOSE PERSPECTIVE IS LIMITED OR ABSENT

What does that absence do?

CONTEXT I NEED

History, culture, author background, genre convention, translation, publication moment.

MY POSITION AS A READER

What experiences, assumptions, knowledge, or gaps shape my response?

My emotional map

Reaction is evidence about the reading experience, not automatic proof about the book's meaning.

WHERE I FELT MOST ENGAGED

Name the moment and the craft or connection involved.

WHERE I RESISTED

Boredom, anger, discomfort, confusion, disbelief, personal limit.

WHAT SURPRISED ME

A feeling, idea, identification, laugh, grief, or changed expectation.

WHAT NEEDS AFTERCARE OR MORE CONTEXT

A pause, conversation, research, grounding, or simply distance.

Discussion questions

Write questions that invite evidence and allow more than one thoughtful answer.

CRAFT QUESTION

How did the writing create its effect?

CHARACTER OR POWER QUESTION

Who gets choice, sympathy, knowledge, safety, or consequence?

THEME QUESTION

What tension does the book complicate?

CONNECTION QUESTION

What other text, history, experience, art, or current issue helps illuminate it?

Final review + connections

Separate personal enjoyment, craft judgment, and recommendation context.

MY FINAL EVALUATION

What did the book attempt, and how well did it do that?

ENJOYMENT VERSUS ADMIRATION

They can agree, disagree, or remain unresolved.

BOOK-TO-BOOK CONNECTIONS

Echoes, contrasts, lineage, genre conversation, influence, response.

THE READER FOR THIS BOOK

Who may love it, struggle with it, or need specific content information?

What this book left with me

Close without forcing a lesson.

Duplicate or print this pack for every book that deserves more than a quick review. There is no required order and no requirement to complete every page.

A FEELING THAT REMAINS

Name it without explaining it away.

AN IDEA I WILL KEEP TESTING

What deserves time beyond the last page?

SOMETHING I WANT TO CREATE, RESEARCH, DISCUSS, OR DO

Let the book open a door without becoming homework.

THE NEXT-BOOK BRIDGE

Continue the mood, change it completely, follow an author, topic, form, or recommendation.
