MIND · BODY · SOUL WELLNESS JOURNAL

a guided journal

This Journal Belongs To

A place to notice what you need, care for your whole self and build wellness that fits your actual life.

NAME

SEASON OF LIFE

I HOPE THIS JOURNAL HELPS ME

WHAT SUPPORT LOOKS LIKE FOR ME

PERMISSION I AM GIVING MYSELF

BEGIN GENTLY

You do not need to finish every page, follow every plan or become a new person. Use the section that meets you where you are.

Inside The Whole Vibe - Part One

Ten complete mini-journals, designed to work together and strong enough to stand on their own.

VISION + INTENTIONS

9-18

See the whole picture and choose what matters now.

WELL WITHIN

19-30

Understand emotions, needs, stress and support.

MINDFUL MOMENTS

31-40

Practice presence without turning calm into another task.

BODY VIBE

41-52

Notice health patterns and prepare for supportive care.

MOVE YOUR VIBE

53-66

Build realistic, no-equipment movement at home.

USE IT YOUR WAY

Start at the beginning, jump to the section you need or duplicate your favorite reusable pages. There is no required order.

Inside The Whole Vibe - Part Two

The second half turns nourishment, meaning, self-care, goals and reflection into realistic practices.

NOURISHED, NOT PERFECT

67-78

Eat with flexibility, satisfaction and real-life planning.

SOUL CARE

79-88

Reconnect with values, identity, meaning and joy.

THE SELF-CARE EDIT

89-96

Create care that actually restores you.

GENTLE GOALS

97-104

Turn intentions into small actions and compassionate restarts.

10

RESET + REFLECT

105-112

Review, celebrate, adjust and begin again.

BUILT FOR DIGITAL AND PRINT

These section-opening pages are designed to become physical tab dividers when the printed edition is produced.

Welcome to Your Whole Vibe

Wellness is not a perfect routine. It is the ongoing practice of noticing, supporting and returning to yourself.

THIS JOURNAL BELIEVES

Your mind, body and soul affect one another. Care should be useful, flexible and possible on ordinary days - not only when you have extra time, money or motivation.

1 Whole-person care

Sleep, food, movement, emotion, connection, purpose and environment all count.

2 Information, not judgment

A check-in is a way to notice what is true, not proof that you are doing life correctly.

3 Support over punishment

Plans should make life more livable. Shame is not a wellness strategy.

4 Progress can be quiet

Resting, asking for help, eating something and beginning again are meaningful actions.

CREATED FOR REAL LIFE

Use what helps. Skip what does not fit. Return later when your needs, body, season or goals change.

Choose Your Path

You do not have to work from page one to page 112. Start with the need that is most present.

1 I feel scattered

Begin with Mindful Moments, the low-energy care menu or the weekly reset.

2 I want a fresh start

Begin with the wellness wheel, vision board and top-three focus map.

3 I want to feel stronger

Begin with Move Your Vibe and choose the ten-minute plan.

4 Food feels exhausting

Begin with low-energy meals, pantry staples and the mix-and-match builder.

5 I feel disconnected

Begin with Soul Care, joy, values or the support-circle pages.

6 I keep falling off

Begin with Gentle Goals and the compassionate restart page.

THE SECTION I NEED MOST TODAY

How to Use This Journal

Keep the practice light enough to return to. Reflection is useful only when it supports your life.

1 Choose one page

Start with the smallest page that answers today's need.

2 Tell the truth

Record what is real instead of what a wellness journal is supposed to say.

3 Use the guides

Let the workouts, food formulas and care menus reduce decision fatigue.

4 Personalize

Adapt for your culture, body, household, resources and professional guidance.

5 Review gently

Look for patterns without turning every hard day into a failure.

6 Repeat what helps

Duplicate reusable pages and leave the rest alone.

A REALISTIC RHYTHM

Five minutes today, one longer reflection this weekend and a reset at the end of the month is enough to create a useful practice.

Care, Safety + Scope

This journal offers general education and reflection. It does not diagnose, treat or replace individualized professional care.

GET IMMEDIATE HELP WHEN NEEDED

If you may harm yourself or someone else, cannot stay safe or are in immediate danger, contact local emergency services or crisis support now. Do not wait for a journal exercise to help.

1 Movement

Start where you are. Stop for sharp pain, chest pain, faintness or severe shortness of breath and seek appropriate care.

2 Food

Needs vary with health, age, culture, pregnancy, medication and access. A qualified professional can personalize guidance.

3 Mental wellness

Reflection can support care but is not therapy. Persistent distress deserves professional support.

4 Health records

Track experiences and questions; do not use these pages to interpret tests or change treatment on your own.

GUIDANCE USED

Movement guidance reflects current U.S. HHS and CDC recommendations. General food-planning guidance reflects USDA MyPlate resources. Recommendations are reference points, not personal prescriptions.

Vision + Intentions

My Whole-Life Wellness Wheel

Rate where each area feels today. This is a snapshot, not a scorecard or a demand for perfect balance.

MIND

AREAS THAT FEEL SUPPORTED

AREAS ASKING FOR CARE

ONE AREA I WANT TO BEGIN WITH

NO PERFECT CIRCLE REQUIRED

Wellness changes across seasons. The goal is not to make every area equal; it is to notice what is true and choose where care would help.

My Starting Point

Begin with what is true today - not the version of you that appears when everything is going perfectly.

People, routines, spaces or choices

WHAT FEELS SUPPORTIVE RIGHT NOW

Name the load without minimizing it

WHAT FEELS HEAVY RIGHT NOW

Energy, tension, appetite, sleep or symptoms

WHAT MY BODY HAS BEEN COMMUNICATING

Thoughts, decisions, feelings or unfinished business

WHAT MY MIND HAS BEEN CARRYING

WHAT I NEED MORE OF IN THIS SEASON

Support, clarity, rest, nourishment, movement, joy or connection

How I Want Life to Feel

Choose feelings and qualities before choosing achievements. Let the vision describe the experience of your life.

Examples: steady, alive, connected, playful

THREE FEELINGS I WANT MORE OFTEN

How would I notice them?

WHAT THOSE FEELINGS LOOK LIKE IN REAL LIFE

Even in small amounts

WHAT CURRENTLY CREATES THOSE FEELINGS

Practical or emotional barriers

WHAT MAKES THEM HARDER TO ACCESS

A SMALL CHANGE THAT WOULD SUPPORT THE FEELING

Something within my control

A Letter From My Future Self

Write from a realistic future where you have supported yourself consistently - not become flawless.

WHAT FUTURE ME WANTS ME TO KNOW

WHAT SHE THANKS ME FOR BEGINNING, PROTECTING OR RELEASING

My Mind, Body + Soul Vision

Create three connected visions. None should require abandoning the other two.

MIND

How I want to think, feel and respond

BODY

How I want to care, move, rest and feel

SOUL

How I want to connect, create and find meaning

LIFE AROUND ME

Home, relationships, work and support

WHAT TIES THE WHOLE VISION TOGETHER

The central feeling, value or promise

Vision Board: How I Want Life to Feel

Use words, colors, sketches or pasted images. Build a life vision, not an aesthetic performance.

MIND

How I want this area to feel

BODY

How I want this area to feel

SOUL

How I want this area to feel

HOME

How I want this area to feel

CONNECTION

How I want this area to feel

PURPOSE

How I want this area to feel

JOY

How I want this area to feel

REST

How I want this area to feel

Vision Board: Images, Words + Possibility

Use words, colors, sketches or pasted images. Build a life vision, not an aesthetic performance.

Cut, paste, write, draw, layer and revise. It is allowed to change.

Intentions for This Season

An intention guides how you want to live. It is not a guarantee or another standard to fail.

INTENTION ONE

How I want to show up

INTENTION TWO

What I want to protect

INTENTION THREE

What I want to practice

WHAT I AM NOT PRIORITIZING RIGHT NOW

A deliberate no

HOW I WILL RETURN WHEN I DRIFT

A kind, specific reset

My Top Three Focus Areas

Choose fewer priorities so your care can become visible in ordinary life.

FOCUS ONE

Why it matters now

FOCUS TWO

Why it matters now

FOCUS THREE

Why it matters now

SUPPORT AND RESOURCES AVAILABLE

People, time, tools or professional care

THE FIRST TINY ACTION FOR EACH FOCUS

Small enough to begin this week

WELL WITHIN

Understand emotions, needs, stress and boundaries without turning every feeling into a problem to solve.

"Your feelings are information, not instructions."

Emotional Baseline

A starting snapshot helps you notice changes without judging a single difficult day.

EMOTIONS I FEEL MOST OFTEN LATELY

Name more than good or bad

EMOTIONS I AVOID OR HIDE

What feels hard to admit

WHAT HAS BEEN TAKING EMOTIONAL ENERGY

Visible and invisible load

WHAT HELPS ME FEEL EMOTIONALLY SAFER

People, boundaries or practices

WHAT I WANT TO UNDERSTAND ABOUT MYSELF

A question, not a verdict

Feelings Vocabulary

Use specific language to understand the experience beneath fine, stressed or upset.

JOY + ENERGY

alive, amused, confident, curious, eager, inspired, playful, proud, relieved

SADNESS + LOSS

disappointed, discouraged, empty, grieving, lonely, tender, tired, unseen

ANGER + PROTECTION

annoyed, betrayed, defensive, frustrated, resentful, violated, furious

FEAR + UNCERTAINTY

anxious, cautious, exposed, nervous, overwhelmed, powerless, worried

CALM + CONNECTION

accepted, grounded, hopeful, loved, peaceful, secure, steady, understood

SHAME + DISCOMFORT

embarrassed, guilty, inadequate, regretful, self-conscious, vulnerable

WORDS THAT DESCRIBE WHAT I FEEL TODAY - AND WHAT EACH ONE MAY BE RESPONDING TO

Needs Vocabulary

A feeling may point toward a need. Naming the need does not guarantee it can be met immediately, but it creates direction.

BODY

food, water, sleep, movement, comfort, medical care, quiet, warmth, touch

SAFETY

stability, privacy, boundaries, predictability, protection, choice, reassurance

CONNECTION

belonging, affection, attention, honesty, support, understanding, community

AUTONOMY

space, freedom, agency, independence, consent, flexibility, self-expression

MEANING

purpose, creativity, contribution, growth, faith, learning, beauty, play

RESTORATION

rest, pleasure, laughter, nature, slowness, relief, celebration, ease

THE NEEDS THAT FEEL LOUDEST RIGHT NOW - AND ONE REALISTIC WAY TO SUPPORT THEM

Daily Emotional Check-In

A short pause to name what is present before the day decides for you.

WHAT HAPPENED

Only the facts I want to record

WHAT I FEEL

Emotions and intensity

WHAT I NOTICE IN MY BODY

Tension, energy, temperature, breath

WHAT I MAY NEED

Care, action, boundary, rest or support

ONE KIND NEXT STEP

Small and within my control

Weekly Emotional Review

Look for patterns across several days instead of defining the week by its hardest moment.

EMOTIONS THAT VISITED MOST

Frequent does not mean permanent

WHAT DRAINED ME

Tasks, environments, conflict or uncertainty

WHAT RESTORED ME

Even briefly

A NEED I HONORED

How I responded

WHAT I WANT TO CARRY INTO NEXT WEEK

A boundary, support or reminder

My Stress Load

Stress includes the tasks people can see and the remembering, anticipating and emotional labor they cannot.

VISIBLE RESPONSIBILITIES

Work, home, care, school or logistics

INVISIBLE RESPONSIBILITIES

Planning, remembering, worrying or monitoring

WHAT FEELS URGENT BUT IS NOT

Pressure I can question

WHAT CAN BE DELEGATED, DELAYED OR DROPPED

Reduce before optimizing

THE SUPPORT I NEED TO ASK FOR

Name the person and the actual request

My Nervous-System Signals

Learn the signs that you are activated, shut down or steady so you can respond earlier.

ACTIVATED LOOKS LIKE

Racing, tense, irritable, restless or hyper-alert

SHUT DOWN LOOKS LIKE

Numb, frozen, exhausted, detached or avoidant

STEADY LOOKS LIKE

Present, flexible, connected or able to choose

EARLY WARNING SIGNS

The small signals before overwhelm

WHAT HELPS ME MOVE TOWARD STEADY

Body, environment, support and boundaries

Trigger Map

A trigger is context, not a character flaw. Notice the pattern without blaming yourself for having a response.

SITUATION OR CUE

What happened or reminded me of something

IMMEDIATE RESPONSE

Thought, feeling, urge or body signal

WHAT THE RESPONSE MAY BE PROTECTING

Safety, belonging, dignity, control or care

WHAT IS TRUE IN THE PRESENT

Facts that help me orient now

A SUPPORTIVE RESPONSE FOR NEXT TIME

Boundary, exit, grounding or conversation

Thought Reframe

Do not force a positive thought. Build a more complete thought that respects both the difficulty and the evidence.

THE THOUGHT

Write it exactly as it appears

THE EMOTION AND URGE

What it makes me feel or want to do

EVIDENCE THAT SUPPORTS IT

Facts, not fears

EVIDENCE IT LEAVES OUT

Exceptions, context or another perspective

A MORE COMPLETE THOUGHT

Believable, compassionate and grounded

Boundary Check-In

A boundary describes what you will do to protect your time, body, energy, privacy or values.

A possible boundary signal

WHERE I FEEL RESENTMENT OR DREAD

WHAT IS BEING ASKED OF ME

The actual request or expectation

WHAT I HAVE CAPACITY FOR

Without pretending or overpromising

THE BOUNDARY I NEED

Clear, specific and within my control

WORDS I CAN USE

Short enough to say out loud

My Difficult-Day Plan

Decide what support looks like before a hard day makes every decision feel impossible.

SIGNS I AM HAVING A HARD DAY

Body, mood, behavior or thinking

MINIMUM CARE

Food, water, medication, hygiene, rest or safety

THINGS I CAN PAUSE

Permission to reduce the load

PEOPLE I CAN CONTACT

Name and how they can help

IF I CANNOT STAY SAFE

Emergency service, crisis support or trusted person

KEEP THIS PLAN VISIBLE

If immediate danger or risk of harm is present, contact local emergency services or crisis support now.

Mindful Moments

Mindfulness: What It Is + Is Not

Mindfulness is noticing the present with less automatic judgment. It is not ignoring pain, danger or real problems.

1 NOTICE

Name what is happening in the body, mind or environment.

2 ALLOW

Let the moment exist long enough to understand it.

3 CHOOSE

Respond intentionally when choice is available.

4 NOT EMPTY

A busy mind can still practice mindfulness.

5 NOT PASSIVE

Presence can lead to boundaries, action or leaving.

6 NOT PERFECT

Ten honest seconds count.

WHAT MINDFULNESS COULD REALISTICALLY LOOK LIKE IN MY DAY

5-4-3-2-1 Grounding

Orient to the room through the senses. Adapt or skip any sense that feels uncomfortable.

CHOOSE WHAT FITS TODAY

☐ 5 things I can see

☐ 4 things I can feel

☐ 3 things I can hear

☐ 2 things I can smell

☐ 1 thing I can taste

☐ My feet on the floor

☐ Name the date

☐ Name where I am

☐ Notice one color

☐ Unclench my jaw

☐ Drop my shoulders

☐ Take a sip of water

WHAT I NOTICED FIRST

WHAT HELPED MOST

HOW I FEEL AFTER ORIENTING

Three Gentle Breathing Practices

Breathing should feel supportive, not forced. Return to normal breathing if you feel dizzy, panicked or uncomfortable.

1 LONGER EXHALE

Inhale comfortably; let the exhale be a little slower or longer.

2 COUNTED BREATH

Count a natural inhale and exhale without trying to fill the lungs completely.

3 SIGH + SETTLE

Take one comfortable breath and release it with a soft sigh.

4 HAND SUPPORT

Place a hand where it feels reassuring and notice movement.

5 NO HOLD REQUIRED

Skip breath holds when they increase tension or discomfort.

6 ORDINARY BREATH

Simply notice three breaths without changing them.

THE BREATHING PRACTICE THAT FEELS MOST ACCESSIBLE TO ME

Body Scan

Move attention through the body with curiosity. You may skip areas that feel unsafe or overwhelming.

Start where attention feels easiest

AREAS THAT FEEL NEUTRAL OR SUPPORTED

Notice without forcing release

AREAS HOLDING TENSION OR DISCOMFORT

What the body touches

TEMPERATURE, PRESSURE AND CONTACT

Movement, rest, food, warmth, care or space

WHAT MY BODY MAY NEED

HOW I WILL CLOSE THE SCAN

Look around, move gently and return to the room

Sensory Reset Menu

Choose one or two inputs that help your system settle. More stimulation is not always more helpful.

CHOOSE WHAT FITS TODAY

☐ Dim the light

☐ Open or close a window

☐ Use headphones

☐ Soft fabric

☐ Warm shower

☐ Cool water on hands

☐ Gentle scent

☐ Unscented space

☐ Quiet music

☐ Chewy or crunchy snack

☐ Heavy blanket if safe

☐ Step outside

SENSORY INPUTS THAT CALM ME

INPUTS THAT OVERWHELM ME

MY QUICKEST REALISTIC RESET

Mindful Morning

Create a beginning that supports the day without requiring an elaborate routine.

HOW I WOKE UP

Body, mood, energy and sleep

WHAT MATTERS MOST TODAY

One priority or value

WHAT MY BODY NEEDS FIRST

Water, food, medication, movement or quiet

A BOUNDARY FOR TODAY

What I will protect

A ONE-MINUTE PRACTICE

Breath, stretch, prayer, music or stillness

Mindful Evening

Close the day without putting it on trial. Notice, release and prepare for rest.

WHAT HAPPENED TODAY

The short version

WHAT I AM STILL CARRYING

Thought, tension, task or feeling

WHAT CAN WAIT UNTIL TOMORROW

Give it a home outside my head

WHAT SUPPORTED ME

Even if the day was difficult

HOW I WANT TO MEET THE NIGHT

Quiet, comfort, connection or sleep

The Worry Container

Give worry a defined place and time so it does not have to occupy every moment.

THE WORRY

Write the actual concern

WHAT IS WITHIN MY CONTROL

Action I can take

WHAT IS NOT WITHIN MY CONTROL

Uncertainty I cannot solve tonight

WHEN I WILL REVISIT IT

A specific time if needed

WHAT I CHOOSE TO DO NOW

Return to the present task, person or rest

Five, Ten + Twenty-Minute Care

Match the practice to the time and capacity you actually have.

1 5: ORIENT

Look around, drink water and name the next need.

2 5: MOVE

Stretch, walk one room or step outside.

3 10: RESET

Clear one surface, eat a snack or shower.

4 10: CONNECT

Text someone, sit with a pet or share honestly.

5 20: RESTORE

Take a walk, prepare food or use a longer grounding practice.

6 20: SUPPORT

Plan, ask for help or prepare for an appointment.

Move Your Vibe

Movement Safety + Readiness

Most people can begin with light or moderate movement, but health conditions, pregnancy, injury or long inactivity may require professional guidance.

Anything that may affect movement

HEALTH CONDITIONS, PAIN OR LIMITATIONS

Restrictions, modifications or goals

PROFESSIONAL GUIDANCE I HAVE RECEIVED

Standing, chair, floor, walking or water

MOVEMENTS THAT FEEL COMFORTABLE

Sharp pain, chest pain, faintness or severe breathlessness

WARNING SIGNS THAT MEAN STOP

MY SAFEST STARTING POINT

Short, easy and repeatable

Movement I Might Actually Do

A sustainable plan begins with access, preference and reality - not the workout somebody else thinks you should want.

Music, walking, stretching, strength or play

MOVEMENT I ENJOY OR TOLERATE

MOVEMENT I DISLIKE

Useful information, not laziness

WHEN MOVEMENT FITS BEST

Time, privacy, childcare and energy

Space, pain, time, clothes, fear or fatigue

WHAT USUALLY GETS IN THE WAY

HOW I CAN MAKE STARTING EASIER

Reduce setup, time or decision-making

Effort + The Talk Test

Use how movement feels, not calorie burn, to choose an appropriate effort.

1 VERY LIGHT

Easy breathing; comfortable conversation.

2 LIGHT

Warm but comfortable; could continue.

3 MODERATE

Breathing faster; can talk but not sing.

4 VIGOROUS

Only a few words before pausing for breath.

5 START SMALL

Short chunks count. Some activity is better than none.

6 BUILD GRADUALLY

Work toward more time or challenge as your body adapts.

THE EFFORT LEVEL THAT FEELS APPROPRIATE FOR ME NOW

Five-Minute Warm-Up

Prepare joints, muscles and breathing without turning the warm-up into a second workout.

1 MARCH

Easy march or seated march for 45-60 seconds.

2 SHOULDER ROLLS

Slowly roll forward and back.

3 HIP HINGE

Send hips back with a long spine; use a chair for support.

4 ANKLE CIRCLES

Hold support or circle one ankle while seated.

5 SIDE STEPS

Step side to side at a comfortable pace.

6 PRACTICE ROUND

Try a few easy reps of the first exercise.

WARM-UP MOVEMENTS THAT FEEL BEST IN MY BODY

Cooldown + Recovery

Let breathing and effort settle gradually. Recovery is part of the plan, not proof that you did less.

1 SLOW DOWN

Walk or march easily for one or two minutes.

2 BREATHE NORMALLY

Avoid forcing deep breaths or holding the breath.

3 GENTLE RANGE

Move shoulders, hips and ankles without pushing pain.

4 HYDRATE

Drink according to thirst and personal health guidance.

5 NOTICE

Record pain, dizziness, unusual fatigue or helpful modifications.

6 REST

Allow recovery before repeating harder work.

WHAT HELPS ME RECOVER WELL

Ten-Minute Gentle Full Body

A low-barrier routine for beginning, returning or moving on a busy day.

ROUTINE

MOVEMENT	AMOUNT	MAKE IT MORE ACCESSIBLE
Easy march	60 seconds	Seated march
Sit-to-stand	8 controlled reps	Use hands or a higher chair
Wall push-up	8 reps	Stand closer to the wall
Standing knee raise	8 each side	Seated knee lift
Heel raise	12 reps	Hold a wall or chair
Repeat	1-2 rounds	Rest whenever needed

LISTEN TO YOUR BODY

Move at a pace that lets you maintain control. Stop for sharp pain, chest pain, faintness or severe shortness of breath.

WHAT I NOTICED AND WHAT I WOULD CHANGE NEXT TIME

Low-Energy Movement Day

Movement that supports circulation and mobility without pretending every day has the same capacity.

ROUTINE

MOVEMENT	AMOUNT	MAKE IT MORE ACCESSIBLE
Seated march	45 seconds	Move one foot at a time
Shoulder rolls	6 each way	Make the circles smaller
Ankle pumps	10 each side	One side at a time
Seated reach	5 each side	Keep the reach low
Supported stand	3-5 reps	Skip or use hands
Settle	1 quiet minute	Normal, comfortable breathing

LISTEN TO YOUR BODY

Low-energy movement is not a failed workout. It is a way of meeting the body you have today.

WHAT I NOTICED AND WHAT I WOULD CHANGE NEXT TIME

Twenty-Minute Full Body A

A beginner-friendly strength and movement circuit using a wall, chair and floor only when comfortable.

ROUTINE

MOVEMENT	AMOUNT	MAKE IT MORE ACCESSIBLE
Sit-to-stand	8-12 reps	Higher chair or use hands
Wall / counter push-up	6-12 reps	Choose a more upright angle
Glute bridge	8-12 reps	Standing hip extension
Bird dog	6 each side	Wall reach or seated reach
March	45 seconds	Seated march
Rest	30-90 seconds	Take longer as needed

LISTEN TO YOUR BODY

Complete two or three controlled rounds after a warm-up. Leave a few good repetitions in reserve instead of pushing to failure.

WHAT I NOTICED AND WHAT I WOULD CHANGE NEXT TIME

Twenty-Minute Full Body B

A second routine for variety, balance and strength without equipment.

ROUTINE

MOVEMENT	AMOUNT	MAKE IT MORE ACCESSIBLE
Step-back tap	6-10 each side	Hold support; reduce range
Good morning hinge	8-12 reps	Hands on thighs for support
Incline push-up	6-12 reps	Use a wall
Dead bug	6 each side	Seated knee lift
Calf raise	10-15 reps	Hold a chair
Brisk march	45 seconds	Comfortable seated march

LISTEN TO YOUR BODY

Complete two or three controlled rounds after a warm-up. Choose the version that lets you move without sharp pain.

WHAT I NOTICED AND WHAT I WOULD CHANGE NEXT TIME

Thirty-Minute No-Equipment Circuit

A longer option built from simple movements, clear work periods and generous modifications.

ROUTINE

MOVEMENT	AMOUNT	MAKE IT MORE ACCESSIBLE
Warm-up	5 minutes	Use the warm-up page
Sit-to-stand	40 sec / 20 rest	Hands or higher chair
Wall push-up	40 sec / 20 rest	Stand closer
Hip hinge	40 sec / 20 rest	Shorter range
Step jack	40 sec / 20 rest	Side tap without arms
Bridge / hip extension	40 sec / 20 rest	Standing version

LISTEN TO YOUR BODY

Complete two or three rounds, then cool down. The goal is controlled, repeatable movement - not exhaustion.

WHAT I NOTICED AND WHAT I WOULD CHANGE NEXT TIME

Walking Starter Plan

Walking can be divided into short sessions. Build time, pace or frequency gradually instead of changing everything at once.

MY CURRENT COMFORTABLE WALK

Time, pace and terrain

WHERE I CAN WALK SAFELY

Indoor, outdoor, store, track or home

MY STARTING SCHEDULE

Days and realistic minutes

HOW I WILL ADJUST FOR WEATHER OR ENERGY

THE NEXT SMALL PROGRESSION

A few minutes, one day or a little pace

Ten-Minute Mobility Flow

Move through a comfortable range. Mobility should not require forcing, bouncing or pushing into sharp pain.

1 NECK + SHOULDERS

Gentle turns, nods and shoulder circles.

2 SPINE

Seated or standing cat-cow movement.

3 HIPS

Supported hip circles and slow hinges.

4 ANKLES

Circles, pumps and supported heel raises.

5 SIDE BODY

Easy side reach with normal breathing.

6 WHOLE BODY

Slow march and comfortable shake-out.

Nourished, Not Perfect

Add Before You Subtract

A supportive meal can begin by adding what is missing instead of creating a longer list of forbidden foods.

1 ADD ENERGY

Rice, bread, pasta, potatoes, oats, tortillas or another carbohydrate.

2 ADD PROTEIN

Eggs, yogurt, beans, lentils, fish, poultry, tofu, nuts or seeds.

3 ADD PRODUCE

Fresh, frozen, canned or dried fruit and vegetables all offer options.

4 ADD SATISFACTION

Flavor, fat, texture, sauce, seasoning or a favorite side.

5 ADD EASE

Pre-cut, canned, frozen and ready-to-eat foods are valid tools.

6 ADD FLEXIBILITY

One meal does not have to contain everything to count.

THE ADDITIONS THAT MAKE MEALS EASIER OR MORE SATISFYING FOR ME

A Flexible Meal Formula

Use the formula as a decision shortcut, not a plate police rule. Needs and portions vary.

1 BASE

Choose a grain, starch, bread, tortilla or other energy source.

2 PROTEIN

Choose an animal or plant protein that works for you.

3 PRODUCE

Add fruit or vegetables in any practical form.

4 FLAVOR

Add sauce, seasoning, cheese, oil, avocado, nuts or another satisfying element.

5 CHECK

Ask: Will this feel filling, appealing and possible today?

6 ADAPT

Respect allergies, culture, budget, health guidance and household needs.

MY EASIEST MEAL COMBINATIONS

Mix-and-Match Meal Builder

Build a personal list of components you can combine without needing a new recipe every night.

BASE	PROTEIN	PRODUCE	FLAVOR / SAUCE	QUICK MEAL IDEA

THREE COMBINATIONS I CAN MAKE THIS WEEK

Snack Builder

A satisfying snack often combines quick energy with protein, fat or fiber - but a snack does not have to be perfect.

1 FRUIT + SUPPORT

Fruit with yogurt, cheese, nuts or seed butter.

2 CRUNCH + DIP

Crackers, vegetables or chips with hummus, beans or another dip.

3 CARB + PROTEIN

Toast with egg, tortilla with beans or cereal with milk.

4 READY-TO-EAT

Trail mix, bar, cheese stick, pouch, yogurt or leftovers.

5 SOMETHING ENJOYABLE

A favorite snack can belong without earning or compensating.

6 ACCESS FIRST

The food you can obtain and eat is more useful than an ideal snack you cannot.

SNACKS I WILL ACTUALLY KEEP AND EAT

Breakfast Without a Production

Choose repeatable breakfasts that match the morning you have.

1 GRAB + GO

Yogurt and fruit, bar and milk, toast and nut butter.

2 WARM + FAST

Oatmeal with fruit, eggs and toast, reheated leftovers.

3 SAVORY

Breakfast taco, rice and egg, beans and tortilla.

4 FREEZER

Frozen sandwich, waffle with yogurt or pre-made burrito.

5 NO APPETITE

Start smaller or pack something for later.

6 FAMILY STYLE

Set out simple components people can choose from.

THREE BREAKFASTS THAT FIT MY REAL MORNINGS

Low-Energy + No-Cook Meals

Build meals that reduce standing, chopping, dishes and decisions.

1 SNACK PLATE

Crackers, cheese or hummus, fruit and something crunchy.

2 WRAP

Tortilla, protein, greens or slaw and sauce.

3 BOWL

Microwave grain, beans or protein, frozen vegetables and sauce.

4 SANDWICH

Bread, filling, produce or soup on the side.

5 BREAKFAST FOR DINNER

Eggs, cereal, oatmeal, yogurt or toast.

6 EMERGENCY OPTION

Frozen meal, takeout or convenience food plus anything useful you can add.

MY LOW-ENERGY MEAL BACKUP LIST

Pantry, Freezer + Fridge Staples

Keep a small working list of foods that create meals quickly and are likely to be eaten.

PANTRY	FREEZER	FRIDGE	PROTEINS	FLAVOR HELPERS

STAPLES THAT NEED REPLACING SOON

Budget Grocery Strategy

Plan around what is already available, the time you have and foods your household will actually use.

WHAT I ALREADY HAVE

Fridge, freezer and pantry

MEALS THAT USE THOSE FOODS

Start before adding more

FRESH FOODS TO USE FIRST

Reduce waste

FROZEN AND SHELF-STABLE BACKUPS

Food for later in the week

MY ORGANIZED SHOPPING LIST

Group by store section or priority

Prep Shortcuts + Planned Leftovers

Meal prep can mean washing fruit, cooking extra rice or choosing tomorrow's dinner - not filling twenty matching containers.

1 DOUBLE ONE THING

Cook extra protein, grain, soup or sauce.

2 PREP A COMPONENT

Wash produce, portion snacks or mix a sauce.

3 PLAN THE LEFTOVER

Decide whether it becomes lunch, wraps, bowls or freezer food.

4 USE CONVENIENCE

Pre-cut, rotisserie, canned and frozen foods save labor.

5 SHARE THE WORK

Assign shopping, chopping, cooking or cleanup.

6 STOP EARLY

Prepare only what will actually reduce tomorrow's effort.

THE ONE PREPARATION STEP WITH THE BIGGEST PAYOFF FOR ME

Hydration Without the Gallon Challenge

Fluids can come from water, other beverages and foods. Personal needs vary with health, activity and environment.

Temperature, flavor and texture count

DRINKS I ENJOY AND TOLERATE

Meals, commute, desk or bedside

TIMES FLUIDS ARE EASIEST

Access, symptoms, schedule or taste

TIMES I TEND TO FORGET

Identify the gap

WHAT MAKES HYDRATION DIFFICULT

A PRACTICAL SUPPORT

Bottle placement, refill plan or preferred option

My Flexible Nourishment Week

Plan enough to reduce decisions while leaving room for appetite, leftovers, schedule changes and life.

THREE REALISTIC DINNERS

Meals that fit time and energy

TWO BACKUP MEALS

Frozen, pantry, no-cook or takeout

BREAKFAST AND LUNCH DEFAULTS

Repeatable is allowed

SNACKS AND DRINKS

What needs to be visible or portable

WHAT I NOTICED ABOUT FOOD, MOOD AND ENERGY

Curiosity without blame

Soul Care

My Core Values

Values are qualities you practice, not achievements you complete.

VALUES I ADMIRE

In myself or others

VALUES I ALREADY LIVE

Evidence from real life

VALUES THAT FEEL NEGLECTED

Where I feel disconnected

A CHOICE THAT WOULD HONOR A VALUE

Small and specific

WHAT I WILL NOT SACRIFICE

A value-based boundary

Purpose for This Season

Purpose can be temporary, ordinary and close to home. It does not need to become a career or legacy project.

People, work, care, creativity or learning

WHAT FEELS MEANINGFUL NOW

A relationship, truth, place or part of myself

WHAT I FEEL CALLED TO PROTECT

WHAT I WANT TO CONTRIBUTE

At a scale I can sustain

WHAT PURPOSE IS NOT ASKING OF ME

Pressure I can release

A PURPOSE-ALIGNED ACTION

Something I can do this month

Identity Beyond Productivity

Name who you are when you are not proving, earning, fixing or performing.

I AM SOMEONE WHO

Qualities, histories and ways of loving

ROLES I HOLD

And which ones need more support

PARTS OF ME I WANT TO RECLAIM

Interests, cultures, dreams or softness

WHAT MAKES ME FEEL MOST LIKE MYSELF

People, places, clothing, music or practices

A SENTENCE I WANT TO REMEMBER

Identity that is not tied to output

Joy + Pleasure Inventory

Joy does not need to be productive, photogenic or expensive.

CHOOSE WHAT FITS TODAY

TINY JOYS AVAILABLE THIS WEEK

JOY I WANT TO PLAN

WHAT MAKES PLEASURE FEEL DIFFICULT - AND WHAT PERMISSION I NEED

Gratitude + Grief Can Coexist

Gratitude does not cancel grief, and grief does not mean you are ungrateful.

WHAT I APPRECIATE

Something true and specific

WHAT HURTS OR IS MISSING

Something that also deserves truth

WHAT I WISH WERE DIFFERENT

Without correcting the wish

WHAT HELPS ME CARRY BOTH

Ritual, relationship, memory or rest

WHAT I NEED TODAY

Comfort, witness, action or space

Connection + Community

Wellness is not an individual project. Notice where you belong, contribute and receive care.

PEOPLE I FEEL SAFE WITH

Who lets me be honest

COMMUNITIES I BELONG TO

Family, culture, faith, neighborhood or interest

CONNECTION I WANT MORE OF

Depth, fun, support or consistency

A RELATIONSHIP THAT NEEDS A BOUNDARY

What would protect connection or peace

ONE WAY I CAN REACH TOWARD COMMUNITY

Ask, attend, invite, share or receive

My Spiritual-Care Menu

Use the language and practices that fit your beliefs. Spiritual care can include faith, reflection, nature, art or meaning.

CHOOSE WHAT FITS TODAY

PRACTICES THAT GENUINELY NOURISH ME

PRACTICES THAT FEEL FORCED

A SPIRITUAL RHYTHM THAT FITS THIS SEASON

Nature + Seasonal Connection

Let the season become information about pace, change, rest and renewal.

WHAT I NOTICE OUTSIDE

Light, temperature, plants, animals or weather

WHAT SEASON I FEEL INTERNALLY

Beginning, growth, harvest, release or rest

WHAT NATURE TEACHES ME RIGHT NOW

A metaphor or reminder

HOW I CAN SPEND TIME OUTSIDE SAFELY

Small and realistic

A SEASONAL RITUAL OR TRADITION

Something I want to begin or continue

Soul Check-In

Notice whether life feels connected to what matters - and where your spirit may be asking for attention.

WHAT FEELS ALIVE IN ME

Interest, love, creativity or conviction

WHAT FEELS DIMMED

Where I feel disconnected or depleted

WHAT I AM LONGING FOR

Name it without dismissing it

WHAT I AM READY TO RELEASE

A role, expectation or old story

WHAT WOULD FEEL LIKE COMING HOME TO MYSELF

A practice, person, place or choice

THE SELF-CARE EDIT

Edit your care around what restores you, what you can access and what your life actually requires.

"You do not have to earn rest."

The Six Kinds of Care

Self-care is broader than treats. Often the most supportive care is practical, relational or protective.

1 PHYSICAL

Food, water, sleep, movement, hygiene and healthcare.

2 EMOTIONAL

Naming feelings, expression, comfort and support.

3 PRACTICAL

Planning, cleaning, transportation, money and asking for help.

4 RELATIONAL

Connection, repair, boundaries and honest conversation.

5 SENSORY

Light, sound, temperature, texture and stimulation.

6 SOUL

Meaning, faith, nature, joy, creativity and rest.

THE KINDS OF CARE I NEED MOST RIGHT NOW

Rest That Actually Restores

Not every break is restorative. Notice what helps your body and mind feel more available afterward.

Sleep, scrolling, television, quiet, play or company

REST I USUALLY CHOOSE

WHAT LEAVES ME MORE RESTORED

Notice the after-feeling

Without shaming the habit

WHAT LOOKS LIKE REST BUT DRAINS ME

WHAT MAKES REST DIFFICULT

Guilt, noise, workload, care or safety

A REALISTIC REST PLAN

Short, protected and possible

Burnout Warning Signs

Burnout often appears before collapse. Notice what changes in your body, behavior and relationships.

EARLY BODY SIGNS

Sleep, tension, headaches, illness or exhaustion

EARLY EMOTIONAL SIGNS

Irritability, numbness, dread or hopelessness

BEHAVIOR CHANGES

Avoiding, overworking, withdrawing or forgetting

WHAT NEEDS TO REDUCE

Demand, responsibility, stimulation or access

SUPPORT AND RECOVERY PLAN

Professional, practical and relational help

Low-Energy Care Menu

Choose care that can happen with very little energy. Minimum care is still care.

CHOOSE WHAT FITS TODAY

MY TRUE MINIMUM-CARE LIST

WHAT I CAN PREPARE AHEAD

THE PERSON WHO CAN HELP ME PROTECT MINIMUM CARE

Digital Boundaries

Technology can connect, soothe, inform and overwhelm. Decide what kind of access supports you.

Connection, learning, work or play

DIGITAL SPACES THAT SUPPORT ME

Timing, content, comparison or interruption

DIGITAL HABITS THAT DRAIN ME

Make the boundary practical

NOTIFICATIONS AND ACCESS I CAN REDUCE

A realistic transition

WHAT I WANT BEFORE SLEEP

ONE DIGITAL BOUNDARY TO TEST

Specific and temporary is okay

A Home That Supports Me

Your environment does not need to be perfect. Focus on what reduces friction, protects safety and makes care easier.

SPACES THAT FEEL SUPPORTIVE

What works about them

SPACES THAT CREATE FRICTION

Clutter, access, noise, light or setup

A CARE STATION I NEED

Water, medication, snacks, hygiene or comfort

ONE SURFACE OR ZONE TO RESET

Small enough to finish

HOW THE HOUSEHOLD CAN SHARE CARE

Tasks, systems or communication

My Personal Self-Care Plan

Build a care plan with options for good days, ordinary days and hard days.

Care that builds strength, joy or connection

WHEN I HAVE MORE CAPACITY

ON AN ORDINARY DAY

Simple maintenance

WHEN I HAVE VERY LITTLE CAPACITY

Minimum care

CARE I NEED FROM OTHER PEOPLE

Specific requests

HOW I WILL KNOW THE PLAN NEEDS TO CHANGE

New season, symptoms or circumstances

JOURNAL 9

Gentle Goals

From Intention to Action

Translate a broad intention into something observable and small enough to begin.

THE INTENTION

How I want to live or feel

THE BEHAVIOR THAT SUPPORTS IT

Something I can actually do

THE SMALLEST VERSION

A two-minute or low-energy option

WHEN AND WHERE IT FITS

Attach it to real life

WHAT SUCCESS WILL MEAN

Practice, not perfection

Tiny Habit Builder

Make starting easier before demanding more motivation.

AFTER I

Existing cue or routine

I WILL

Tiny specific action

I WILL MAKE IT EASY BY

Prepare the environment

MY MINIMUM VERSION

What counts on a hard day

MY NATURAL REWARD

Relief, satisfaction, music, check mark or rest

Habit Ladder

Create several versions so the habit can flex with capacity instead of disappearing.

ONE-MINUTE VERSION

The easiest rung

FIVE-MINUTE VERSION

A small useful practice

TEN-MINUTE VERSION

The normal version

MORE-CAPACITY VERSION

Optional, not required

HOW I CHOOSE THE RUNG

Time, energy, pain, support or schedule

Obstacle Plan

Expect barriers without treating them as proof the goal was wrong.

LIKELY OBSTACLE

Time, energy, environment, fear or access

EARLY SIGN IT IS SHOWING UP

What I will notice

REDUCE THE TASK

Smaller version

CHANGE THE ENVIRONMENT

Remove friction or add support

ASK, PAUSE OR ADAPT

The plan when pushing harder is not the answer

The Compassionate Restart

A restart is part of consistency. Use information from the gap instead of shame about the gap.

WHAT INTERRUPTED THE PLAN

Facts and context

WHAT THE ORIGINAL PLAN ASSUMED

Time, energy, money or support

WHAT I LEARNED

Useful information

WHAT I WILL CHANGE

Size, cue, environment or support

MY NEXT AVAILABLE ACTION

Not a punishment or catch-up marathon

Thirty-Day Wellness Plan

Choose one or two focuses and build a month that can survive ordinary life.

MY FOCUS

What matters this month

WHY NOW

Meaning and need

WEEKLY ACTIONS

Small, repeatable steps

SUPPORT AND OBSTACLES

What I will prepare for

HOW I WILL REVIEW THE MONTH

What I want to learn

Ninety-Day Wellness Vision

Think in a season: enough time for change, short enough to stay connected to reality.

AT THE END OF NINETY DAYS

Reset + Reflect

Weekly Whole-Self Reset

Check the whole system before building next week's plan.

MIND

What I am carrying and what support I need

BODY

Sleep, energy, food, movement and symptoms

SOUL

Meaning, joy, connection and rest

WHAT NEEDS ATTENTION NEXT WEEK

Choose fewer priorities

WHAT I AM RELEASING

Task, pressure, guilt or expectation

Monthly Wellness Review

Zoom out far enough to see patterns, support and change.

WHAT SUPPORTED ME

Routines, people, care or environment

WHAT DRAINED ME

And what may need a boundary

PROGRESS I CAN NAME

Visible or quiet

WHAT MY BODY AND MIND COMMUNICATED

Patterns worth noticing

MY FOCUS FOR NEXT MONTH

One direction, not ten resolutions

Seasonal Reset

Let changing seasons create a natural point to reassess needs, pace and priorities.

WHAT THIS SEASON HELD

Events, changes and emotional weather

WHAT I AM PROUD OF

Effort, honesty, care or growth

WHAT I AM READY TO CLOSE

Leave complete or release

WHAT THE NEXT SEASON MAY REQUIRE

Support, preparation or flexibility

A SEASONAL INTENTION

How I want to meet what comes

Whole-Vibe Wellness Bingo

Choose any line, any cluster or whatever sounds useful. This is an invitation, not another streak to protect.

SQUARES THAT WOULD HELP MOST THIS WEEK

A SQUARE I WANT TO PERSONALIZE

WHAT I NOTICED AFTER CHOOSING CARE

Progress + Celebration

Celebrate evidence of care, courage and return - not only finished goals.

SOMETHING I BEGAN

Even if it is unfinished

SOMETHING I CONTINUED

Consistency in any size

SOMETHING I STOPPED OR CHANGED

A boundary or better fit

SUPPORT I ACCEPTED

Receiving counts

HOW I WANT TO CELEBRATE

Pleasure, rest, sharing or acknowledgment

Open Notes + What I Am Learning

Use this space for the thoughts, patterns, questions and ideas that do not belong in a neat category.

NOTES, LISTS, SKETCHES OR REFLECTIONS

WHAT I WANT TO RETURN TO LATER

Closing Reflection

Gather what this journal helped you notice and choose what you want to carry into the next season.

WHAT CHANGED IN HOW I UNDERSTAND WELLNESS

The definition I have now

WHAT I TRUST ABOUT MYSELF

Evidence from the process

WHAT I UNDERSTAND ABOUT MY BODY

Patterns, limits, strength or needs

WHAT FEELS MOST MEANINGFUL

A value, relationship, practice or truth

MY PROMISE FOR THE NEXT CHAPTER

Realistic, compassionate and mine

THE WHOLE VIBE

You are not a project to finish. You are a whole person to know, support and keep returning to.
